FESTIVAL PROGRAMME

VIDEONALE.15

Like the exhibition itself, the VIDEONALE.15 festival programme will deal with the competition theme "The Call of the Wild", and will take a closer look at the "Wild" as the description and examination of new and still undefined fields of activity-, image- or conceptual space. The focus will be thereby on the new dimensions which come about as the result of an all-embracing digitalisation. The question about how to handle the expanding, wide-scale monitoring of our data- and communication channels and its effects is examined, as are the new aesthetic and artistic ways of using the surface of a digitally generated world.

OPENING WEEKEND

FRIDAY, 27TH FEBRUARY 2015

11 AM - 12.30 PM AUDITORIUM KUNSTMUSEUM BONN

PANEL: THE ACT OF LIBERATION. RAGE AGAINST THE MACHINE EN

Christoph Faulhaber (Artist, Hamburg)

Ole Reißmann (Editor Spiegel Online, Department Net World, Hamburg)

!Mediengruppe Bitnik (Artists, Zurich/London)

Moderation: Dr. Julia Draganovic (Jury V.15, director Kunsthalle Osnabrück)

In 1984 the Apple Macintosh is launched. The era of the personal computer begins. And 30 years later, this is the device which gives us a surfeit of data and the loss of the private sphere. Now, some 20 years after the start of the World Wide Web, we see that the internet is not only an open space for exchanging ideas but also a place under surveillance. The net has wormed its way into everything we do, private information is stockpiled and evaluated for commercial and political use. What is the hybrid potential of networked media and how do artists protest against this apparent freedom of the internet? How does the net, as a commercial collector of data, affect the work of artists?

LECTURE: MAPS OF MYTHS: MEMORY SPACE AND DIGITAL REMEMBRANCE IN THE EGYPTIAN REVOLUTION EN

Heba Amin (Artist, lecturer University of Applied Sciences HTW Berlin)

What happens when the events of a revolution unfold online, when governments and ideologies change and people are potentially held accountable for past online activity? How can we begin to deal with the trauma of the past when it continues to haunt us in the future? This presentation which uses Egypt as a case study investigates spaces of remembrance in the age of digital communication and examines how public memory is intertwined with urban topologies and new media.

5 - 5.45 PM AUDITORIUM KUNSTMUSEUM BONN

PRESENTATION: DETOUR EN

Amado Alfadni (Director Nabta Art & Culture Center, Cairo)

Tasja Langenbach (Artistic director VIDEONALE.15)

Jan Hoeft (Artist, Cologne)

Patrick Rieve (Artist, Cologne)

Within the framework of the cultural support programme TANDEM SHAML, Videonale e.V. and the Nabta Centre for Art and Culture, Egypt have organised the project DETOUR. In two workshops German and Egyptian artists worked together developing artistic activities in Cairo's public spaces. Their aim was to ask questions about how public spaces are treated in a city like Cairo in general, and after the revolution in particular.

A project of TandemShaml-European Cultural Managers Exchange Europe-Arab Region. The event is funded by ifa-Institut für Auslandsbeziehungen.

6 PM MEETING POINT FORECOURT KUNSTMUSEUM BONN

PERFORMANCE / TOUR: LEGUIDE WITH BALZ ISLER (ARTIST, BERLIN/ ZURICH)

LeGuide is an art tour with its own rules. In an old mail bus of the Swiss Post it takes the path between one scene and others and back to the first one again. Like the works which the tour visits and discusses, the tour has its own vocabulary of form for combining themes and perspectives. The Swiss performer and media artist Balz Isler invites you to join him on his tour round the VIDEONALE. PARCOURS; itself a performance. The tightrope walk between consumption, commerce and sensitive interest.

The bus tour through the VIDEONALE.PARCOURS ends at about 8 pm at Fabrik 45.

CONCERT: HALFWAY HOUSE BY HALL&RAUCH

If you made 2 copies – a mirror-image of all the noise – it wouldn't have to be very big, and then you leaned those two mirrors against one another, maybe it – it would be like, like, an eternal reflection of silence

Music by Niko Chodor

PERFORMANCE: PROPOSAL FOR A SOUNDTRACK FOR

VIDEONALE.PARCOURS BY MAX GRAU AND JAN ERBELDING

Among others, the question is whether Elvis Presley was more important than the landing on the moon. Do you have to give a thumbs-up when you recognise the song which is now playing because you noticed its title on a poster on the wall – or maybe you don't, it's not quite clear. A totally discrete layer of meaning – about the evening, the place, the opening and the exhibition – that you can somehow dance to.

SATURDAY, 28TH FEBRUARY 2015

11 - 11.30 AM AUDITORIUM KUNSTMUSEUM

LECTURE PERFORMANCE: WILD WILD WEB. INTERNET CULTURE BETWEEN ART AND ABYSS EN

Ole Reißmann (Editor Spiegel Online, Department Net World, Hamburg)

Hakan Tanriverdi (Free Journalist Süddeutsche.de, Department Digital, Munich)

In the weakly lit corners of the web, far from all the hype and commerce, an internet culture has developed over the years. A few phenomena of this network culture have surfaced in the mainstream as memes. We laugh at Grumpy Cat and see Anonymous masks at every demonstration. Other phenomena defy exploitation, remain cryptic, ambivalent, disturbing. We're taking a look at these dark corners, visiting "Deep YouTube", "Weird Twitter" and then jumping to post-internet art.

11.30 AM - 1 PM AUDITORIUM KUNSTMUSEUM

PANEL: AFTER THE INTERNET. BRAVE NEW WORLD OF IMAGES EN

Uri Aviv (Director Utopia, Tel Aviv)

Prof. Dr. Knut Ebeling (Media Theory and Aesthetics, Weißensee Kunsthochschule Berlin)

Elodie Evers (Curator Kunsthalle Düsseldorf)

Moderation: Dr. Sabine Maria Schmidt (Curator, author, Düsseldorf)

With the internet boom of the 90s began the artistic exploration of the internet. Nowadays young artists, who we can call digital natives and are part of a generation which grew up with and in the internet, are busying themselves with the new "anonymous materials". They work with all sorts of membranes, surfaces and displays. Motifs originate in the worldwide data flows, pictures cannot be traced back and videos are shared millions of times on Facebook.

What influences do the new technologies exert on the visual forms and languages of the moving image? What are the distinguishing features of the so-called post-internet art? How do internet phenomena influence video art and its production? What can we forecast for the future?

4 - 5 PM AUDITORIUM KUNSTMUSEUM BONN

LECTURE: ARTONYOURSCREEN – USING THE BROWSER AS CANVAS EN

Julia Jochem (Project Manager Digital Media, ZKM Karlsruhe)

ArtOnYourScreen (AOYS) is an innovative online exhibition platform of the ZKM. It defines a place for artistic production and education under the conditions of the networked world. AOYS reveals the potential of an online art museum: Instead of presenting digitized analogue art, AOYS presents artworks that use the infrastructure of the web – the browser functions as canvas.

The works are mainly interactive, so the user is not only the spectator or contemplator but an important part that completes the piece and gives it different shapes and appearances.

SCREENING: THE HUMANS BY ALEXANDRE SINGH (4K-SINGLE-CHANNEL-PROJECTION, 2013-2014, 2:53H), GERMAN PREMIERE

In his videodrama THE HUMANS, Alexandre Singh creates a parallel world in which western culture's centuries old conflict between dionysian chaos and apollonian perfection is being fought out. In three acts Singh mixes numerous references to the history of literature and art, from Aristophanes, Shakespeare, Woody Allen, and George Grosz to Oscar Wilde, Rabelais und Daumier. The result is a reflection on the way in which contemporary artists are forced to make a decision for one of these poles.

The presentation will focus on a number of video excerpts by different generations of artists from former Eastern Europe, particularly former Yugoslavia and Russia that work with the aesthetics, politics and technologies of the medium of video. They use it to express thoughts about memory, history, nationalism and different forms of structural racism as well as relations, both within and outside the European Union, that are reinforcing the dissemination of discrimination and deregulations.
